

Master's degree program

09.04.01.10 "Intellectual information systems"

Program code: "09.04.01 Computer science and engineering"

SibFU School: School of Space and Information Technologies, Department of Artificial Intelligence Systems

Program duration: 2 years (120 ECTS)

Short description:

The mission of educational program is to prepare specialists able to analyze the current state of problem domain, to reveal the perspective directions of software and hardware development, to determine the knowledge-intensive tasks requiring scientific research, to offer and apply approaches to their decision.

Graduates can work as analytical engineers, heads of analytical development departments, designers of intellectual information systems, developers of decision making support systems.

Successful completion of this program will allow the graduates to take positions at any enterprise engaged in production and (or) information analysis, industrial enterprises carrying out scientific research in the field of modern information systems.