

The intake for the contest «My Sustainable Eco-Friendly Future Starts at SibFU» competition has been opened

Siberian Federal University provides an opportunity for international applicants to take part in a creative competition and win a discount on tuition fee.

SibFU held the first competition together with the multilingual journal Higher Education Discovery in 2021. In 2022, we are launching another competition dedicated to the environmental agenda and allowing international applicants to enroll in the annual course of the preparatory department at a discount of 80 to 25 %. Participants need to write an essay or shoot a video on how their eco-friendly future could look like after studying at the Siberian Federal University.

Deadline is 12, June; all the international citizens can take part in the competition, without age restrictions.
